Japanese 'Suicide' Submarines Invade Harbor at Sydney

Driven Away by Alert Defenders; Toll in Atlantic Mounts

Sydney, Australia, June 1.—(AP)—Japanese midget submarines, apparently launched from a mother ship off the Australian coast, sneaked into famous Sydney harbor last night to be greeted by a thunder of gunfire and depth charges which probably sank three of the tiny craft and thus averted damage to vital shipping.

The only achievement of the suicide raiders, believed similar to the midget undersea craft which figured in the attack on Pearl Harbor last Dec. 7, was the sinking of an old steamer used as a ferry.

The raid, however, carried the war to southern Australia for the first time and gave the residents of Sydney—the largest city in this broad continent—an exciting night punctuated by the sounds of heavy gunfire.

The submarines, which presumably slipped through a narrow shipping lane in the mile-wide harbor entrance, were spotted first at about 11 p. m., and two sudden gunshots from allied defense batteries touched off a veritable inferno.

Searchlights sprang into action on all sides and their beams swept the harbor as more guns fired their salvos.

One searchlight picked up the periscope and upper portion of the oncoming tower of one submarine, which was believed sent to the bottom by gunfire.

Two other submarines, allied headquarters said, were believed sunk by depth charges loosed by allied naval vessels which combed the bay in all directions.

Residents of the city of approximately 1,300,000 were kept awake most of the night by the explosion of depth charges dropped in an attempt to insure the destruction of any raiders which might be hiding on the bottom.

That the midget submarines were launched from a parent ship—probably somewhere in the Coral Sea—seemed a virtual certainty, for the tiny undersea craft have only a very short range and the nearest Japanese land bases are approximately 2,000 miles to the north of Sydney.

U-BOATS TOLL GROWS
New York, June 1.—(AP)—Southern waters churned with enemy torpedoes last month as undersea raiders concentrated their fury on allied and neutral shipping in the Gulf of Mexico-Caribbean area.

Piling up a war total of 231 navy-announced sinkings in the eastern Atlantic from Canada to north America, the submarines picked off 13 victims in the Gulf-Caribbean sector alone.

There were 17 officially announced sinkings during the week and the navy announced yesterday a loss of four more ships.

With the sinking May 20 of two merchantmen in the Caribbean within sight of each other, and on May 27 of a Norwegian cargo ship in the Gulf, the number of sinkings in that area near Pearl Harbor rose to 75, including 10 vessels sunk last week.

The boldness of the axis submarines was exemplified by two attacks within three days on the U. S. destroyer Blakeley, one on neutral Brazilian ship to be torpedoed—and the sinking of two Mexican oil tankers.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The allies very definitely are getting ahead with their job of tapping Herr Hitler to learn the measure of his girth.

Latest and most impressive proof of this rests in the revelation of air power in the record British bombing raid by some 1,250 warplanes which laid waste to a large area of the ancient Rhenish city of Cologne—a really terrifying exhibition.

That is, to use the language of British Premier Churchill, "a herald of what Germany will receive, city by city." This statement acquires added significance through the announcement today in London by Lieut. General Henry Arnold, head of the United States air forces, that he has practically completed conferences with British leaders to develop "the maximum impact of our combined air strength" on Germany.

In short, the curtain has been drawn aside to give us a glimpse of an allied air fleet which is rapidly developing into a force that nothing on earth will be able to withstand. We shall in due course be able to blast Hitler's Germany off the map, to make way for another reich which will fit into the new world order.

Still, we shouldn't let this spectacular event obscure the momentous development on the Russian front. The struggle for the main gateway to the golden Caucasus, upon which the outcome of the war depends to such large degree, appears to have reached the lull which may be said to mark the end of the first stage of this Armageddon, with the advantage resting on the allied side.

True, the Hitlerites have suffered no overwhelming defeat along the great Kharkov-Rostov sector which forms the chief barrier to the Caucasus, but the important point to keep in mind is that the mere fact the Nazis haven't been able to get ahead with their project of breaking through into that Garden of Eden is in itself a serious setback. Every day

Swedish Diplomatic Liner Reaches Its Port Safely This Morn

Jersey City, N. J., June 1.—(AP)—The white-painted Swedish diplomatic liner Drottningholm brought its first batch of 908 passengers, including diplomats, newspaper reporters and citizens of the American republics safely home from Europe today.

Ship's officers said that three axis submarines were sighted on the 10-day trip from Lisbon, but that Captain Sigfred Ericsson, the skipper, did not let the passengers for fear of alarming them. The ship's itinerary had been given in advance to all belligerents.

The first sub, ship's officers said was sighted off the coast of Portugal 22 hours out of Lisbon. Two more were sighted May 29 and they immediately closed their hatches and dived.

Brings Wife's Body
Admiral William D. Leahy was the first to leave the ship, accompanying the body of his wife who died while he was ambassador to Vichy.

Of the 908 passengers, 169 were U. S. diplomats, 185 Latin American diplomats and a total of 573 were U. S. citizens. There were nationals of 33 countries as well as 19 stateless persons.

Nearly 16 languages were spoken aboard the ship, returning

Injuries Fatal to Sublette Resident

John Becker, well known resident of Sublette, died Saturday at the Harris hospital at Mendota, his death resulting from injuries sustained last Tuesday, while he was working at the Van Dusen cheese factory at Sublette. Becker with others, was reported to have been unloading a large vat from a truck, when one of the jacks slipped, causing the heavy vat to tip over.

Becker was said to have been caught beneath the falling vat, but at first he was not thought to have been seriously injured. However, last Friday his condition became much worse and he was removed to the Harris hospital at Mendota where he passed away Saturday. He is survived by his widow and two sons. Funeral services will be conducted from the Catholic church at Sublette Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock with interment at place.

Traffic Accidents in Illinois Cause of But Six Deaths

Slower Driving by Tire-Conscious Motorists Cuts Holiday Toll

By The Associated Press
Slower driving by the conscious motorists was credited by authorities for the unusually low figure of but six reported fatalities which traffic accidents contributed to Illinois' Memorial Day week-end total of at least 24 violent deaths.

This reflected the trend for the entire nation, as gasoline rationing kept eastern motorists at home and uninterrupted activity in war plants kept many others at their machines.

Only 305 violent deaths were reported throughout the United States during the two-day holiday, as against an average of 400 on a normal May week-end. The nation's highways, on which 308 lives were lost during last year's three-day observance of Memorial Day, claimed only 108 deaths this year.

Drownings took the highest toll of Illinois deaths, claiming eight lives. Stabbings were fatal to three Chicago Negroes, and miscellaneous causes were responsible for the other eight deaths.

Traffic About on Par
Traffic was reported on a par with previous holidays, the Chicago Motor Club said, but traffic officials generally agreed motorists drove slower.

A Chicago traffic policeman swam 300 yards into Lake Michigan to rescue a youth whose kayak had capsized, but a companion drowned before the officer, Robert Hoffman, 42, could reach him.

George Dukeman, 45, was fatally injured and Joseph Keran, 23, was critically hurt when their automobile struck a tree near Oakland Sunday. Both resided at Oakland.

Two Peorians Drown
Two youths were drowned in separate accidents at Peoria. Harold Neill, 21, fell from a surfboard drawn by an outboard motor boat in the Illinois river Sunday, while Earl Griggs, 16, drowned Saturday night during a moonlight swimming party at Longshore Park on the Illinois river.

Charles Salles, 55, Pittsfield, was fatally hurt when struck on the head by a pipe while working on a pipe line at Auburn and in the same town a bouquet of flowers which Mrs. Alicia Simmons, 94, was taking to the cemetery was blamed for an auto accident Saturday in which she was fatally injured.

Mrs. Anna Drennan, 45, was the deputy coroner that as they were driving, the vast of flowers, setting between the two, started to fall. "I grabbed for the vase," she said, "and lost control of the car." Mrs. Simmons was thrown against the windshield.

John Jackovitch, 32, Nebish, Minn., who recently was employed at the Carnegie-Illinois steel plant at Joliet, drowned Saturday in the Fox river near Plano.

Nazi General Next to Rommel Is Now British Prisoner

With the British Forces in Libyan Desert, May 30.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Gen. Ludwig Cruewell, commander of the German African corps and second only to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in the North African command, was captured yesterday and found in possession of a diary which showed he conferred with Adolf Hitler only a week before Rommel's latest attack.

Cruewell, 55, former commander of Nazi tank formations in France and Yugoslavia, was taken prisoner when a reconnaissance plane in which he was a passenger was forced down by anti-aircraft fire in the center of the British lines.

Earlier it had been thought that Lieut. General Nehring had taken command of the corps—there even was a rumor that he had succeeded Rommel—but it became apparent that he was sent to the desert only to fill in for Cruewell during the latter's home leave.

Most Important
Cruewell, who became a full general last December, left the desert March 24 and returned May 24, just two days before the zero hour for the African corps' new drive.

Cruewell probably is the most important general yet to fall into British hands.

"Captured Italian officers gave him a most deferential fascist salute when he departed," said a British officer who escorted Cruewell to quarters assigned to him.

The tall, ruddy-faced, grizzled officer with the grime of the desert struggle still on him faced newspaper cameras unabashed.

Asked what he thought about the Russian campaign, where he participated in the Kiev drive last fall, he replied curtly, "I don't speak on military or political subjects."

Next Quarter May Call Boys to Army

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—The next three months may determine whether military authorities ask congress to draft youths of 18 and 19.

Unofficial proposals to lower the minimum selective service age from 20 to 18 years have aroused some strong opposition in congress and informed legislators said it was likely a decision would be postponed until fall brings a clearer picture of how long the war will last.

Senator George (D-Ga.) said he believed a more intelligent judgment of the question could be made after the summer military campaigns.

"If it appears then that the war will last through 1943 and may run through 1944 or even 1945, I have no doubt that the army will want to drop the age limit to 18," the Georgian said. "Under present conditions, I would hesitate to draft 18-year-olds and would not want to make 19-year-olds subject to compulsory military service unless it is absolutely necessary."

The war department has not masked its desire to get younger men into the army, but Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he had been supplied figures which indicated that the army could build up to a total of between 4,500,000 and 5,000,000 men within the next year without taking either 19-year-olds or men with families.

British Trap Nazi Tank Divisions in African Campaign

Germans Now Battle to Escape Encirclement; Lull in Russia

Cairo, Egypt, June 1.—(AP)—The bulk of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's two German tank divisions—the backbone of his Africa corps—was reported trapped and attempting to escape the British today with the forces of Lieut. Gen. Neil M. Ritchie waging a fierce battle from all sides and from the air in an effort to wipe them out.

The Germans' only hope, a British communique indicated, was to win a "battle of the gaps" by holding open two narrow passages to the westward which the Germans had cleared and where they had concentrated anti-tank artillery to protect their route of escape.

The British declared Gen. Ludwig Cruewell, in direct command of the Africa corps under Rommel, had been captured. The 55-year-old former commander of an armored division in Yugoslavia was said to have been taken prisoner when the reconnaissance plane was shot down in the desert.

British informants said that the Germans, faced with the choice of using the minefields gaps to bring up supplies or to withdraw the tanks, apparently had chosen the latter course and that the Rommel offensive, begun five days ago, had turned into a furious battle by his forces to escape encirclement.

The RAF, reporting the loss of 19 planes in continuous operations over the battle area in the last 24 hours, said its fighter and bomber attacks on axis mechanized forces were maintained "with outstanding effect."

Nazi Transports Lost

The planes are concentrating on supply columns attempting to move oil and water to Rommel's forces, as well as engaging in actual combat with the tanks and armored cars.

Missing

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reynolds

1839 First street, Dixon, have received confirmation from Washington, stating that their son, Burrell, above, is in all probability, a prisoner of war being held by the Japanese forces in the Philippines. Burrell enlisted in the navy at Rockford, July 9, 1940 and his parents have had no word from him in more than a year, they stated today.

Anxious as to his whereabouts, they started an investigation at Washington, which a few days ago brought the following reply from Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of the naval personnel.

"Burrell James Reynolds, second class seaman was reported to be on duty in Manila Bay area when that station was captured. There is no report of his death or his having sustained injury and he may be a prisoner of war. It will probably be several months before definite information can be expected concerning his status."

Water Wall Over 15 Feet High in Lake Erie Kills 7

Cleveland, June 1.—(AP)—The Lake Erie Shore counted seven dead today from the sudden sweep of a water wall, described at one point as 15 to 20 feet high, which plunged against night fishing parties in a 60-mile stretch of the lakefront.

At least seven others were injured and hospitalized.

A sudden shift in wind direction was the major cause of the huge wave, the Cleveland weather bureau reported. One witness said a smaller crest followed later.

Those drowned when the wall of water struck about 2:15 a. m. Sunday, as all-night fishermen were bent on their holiday week-end sport, were:

Merle Edward Diehl, 45; Orlo Lenney, 29, and Lenney's wife, Esther, 25, all of Cortland, O., who were fishing from a small boat at Day's-on-the-Lake, near Geneva.

Suggests Memorial Day Be Designated as "Dedication Day"

Memorial Day in Dixon Saturday was observed under excellent weather conditions and the program attracted large numbers who watched the long parade through the business district to Oakwood cemetery where the exercises were held. Justice Elwyn R. Shaw of the Illinois Supreme court was the speaker and gave a stirring oration in which he suggested that changing of the name Memorial Day to Dedication Day at least through the present war period.

The members of the Dixon Memorial Association received the cooperation of the many patriotic organizations of the city, who participated in the parade and exercises. One of the outstanding features of the observation of Memorial Day is the miniature cemetery on the court house lawn where freshly painted crosses are erected each year by members of Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion, honoring the last World War heroes.

The usefulness of such concentrations was proved in England, where many a raiding Nazi plane crashed to destruction after snagging steel cables dangling from the high-flying balloons.

Completion of the installation work came while west coast residents, mindful of warnings by Secretary of War Stimson and Civilian Defense Director James M. Landis, concentrated on new civilian defense measures.

Policemen, firemen and air raid wardens were issued gas masks, and policemen were instructed to carry them while on duty. Steel helmets also were passed out to San Diego police, who went on a 12-hour shift with no days off.

Gas Mask, Steel Helmet and Barrage Balloon Common Sights Along Coast

San Francisco, June 1.—(AP)—The gas mask, the steel helmet and the barrage balloon—all of them preparations against enemy attacks which official Washington thinks may come at any time—became commonplace sights along the Pacific coast today.

A survey disclosed that countless balloons, probably surpassing even Britain's barrage balloons, now protect every strategic military point along the west coast, from San Diego to Seattle.

These captive gas bags have one main purpose to keep enemy planes high enough to impair the bombardier's aim, and to help the anti-aircraft gunners.

Death Stills Voice of John Barrymore; Heroic Fight Fails

Famed Actor of Stage, Screen and Radio is Buried This Morn

Hollywood, June 1—(AP)—Gay, debonair John Barrymore, who lived life to the utmost and gave scant heed to the consequences, is dead.

The 60-year-old star of the stage, screen and radio, whose life was spent in the white glare of publicity, was almost alone when the end came at 12:20 a. m. C. W. T. Friday night. Only his medical attendants and his brother, Lionel, were with him in his white-walled hospital room when John crossed the border into death from the coma in which he had lain for hours.

In his last days Barrymore embraced the faith of his birth. His physician, Dr. Hugo M. Kersten, disclosed that he had been given the last sacraments by Father John O'Donnel, pastor of a little Catholic church not far from the Hollywood Presbyterian hospital where Barrymore died.

Dr. Kersten said the immediate cause of death was myocarditis, a heart ailment, complicated by chronic nephritis, cirrhosis of the liver and gastric ulcers.

Final Collapse May 19
Barrymore, who had been frequently ill in late years, suffered his final collapse May 19. He appeared at a broadcasting studio for rehearsal that night, his face contorted with pain.

Barrymore came from his dressing room when the rehearsal was about to start, then staggered backward, tears of pain starting from his eyes.

Misses His Cue
To Rudy Vallee, who rushed to his aid, Barrymore said:
"I guess this is one time I missed my cue."

At the hospital he made a brave fight, but years of the gay life of which he often spoke jokingly on his radio programs, had taken their toll, and at no time did his condition give his physicians cause for encouragement.

For days he was conscious only at intervals. Several days ago his doctor resorted to stimulants to keep his flagging heart going, but it was no use.

In a hospital ante-room when the end came was his daughter, Diana Barrymore, born of his marriage to Michael Strange, writer. In Mamaroneck, N. Y., it was announced that his sister, Actress Ethel Barrymore, would finish two stage performances in Boston.

Barrymore told a friend that every second of his life was an interesting experience, and his antics, on stage and off, bore him out. He was married four times, made national reputation as a wit, and was regarded as one of the most competent actors of his time.

Unpredictable
He was an unpredictable man, sometimes aloof and reserved, then roguish and jovial. He was a favorite of newsmen, to whom he was almost invariably cordial. When he was in Chicago in 1939 he was besieged by high school editors and reporters and student actors seeking interviews. Refusing to disappoint them, he held a press conference for 150, and answered questions for 50 minutes.

He repudiated a hotel manager who tried to break it up, and later made a typical Barrymore exit after apologizing to the youngsters for taking so much of their time.

John is survived by his brother, Lionel, his sister, Ethel and three children, Diana, and Dolores Ethel Mae Barrymore, 12, and John Blythe Barrymore, 10, born of his marriage to Dolores Costello.

Simple funeral services were held this morning.

Barrymore's last few years were his most hectic, most exciting, and therefore, most publicized.

Often Stole Headlines
His Caliban-Ariel romance with Elaine Barrie . . . His financial difficulties—A jurist put him on a $600 weekly allowance, assigned the remainder of his income to creditors; then raised John's share to $700 for good behavior . . . His satirizing of his own life on stage, screen and radio . . . and his frequent bouts with death itself frequently stole headlines from vastly more important, if less hilarious, news.

Barrymore seldom missed a chance to rib himself, and his an-

Two Young Women In Party at Park Excavating Mound

Anthropologists Hopeful of Unearthing Interesting Material

Dr. Fay Cooper-Cole, one of the world's outstanding anthropologists, who is supervising the excavation of several mounds in Assembly park, is quite hopeful of unearthing some interesting material as each day the group of about 20 students are entering the vital spots of two mounds.

Associated in the group are several professors who are or have been affiliated with the University of Chicago faculty.

Prof. Pinhaus Delougaz, who has conducted extensive excavations in Mesopotamia, has joined the group to remain until the work is concluded. Prof. Mariel Wagoner of Sao Paulo, Brazil, an authority on South American subjects, is another prominent member of the group as is Prof. R. J. Braidwood who has engaged in extensive research work in Egypt.

About 20 students will be housed in cottages in the park until the excavating is completed. The group consists of wives of three of the professors and to be seen working in the excavations daily are two young women, Miss Virginia Truttman, a graduate student of the University of Chicago, and Miss Florence Schroeder, a sophomore student.

Both take their turns in digging in the openings entering the 25-foot lineal mound, the first to be investigated. Work has also been started to enter a large conical mound and the students have discovered another circular track mound nearby which is also to be excavated.

Dr. Cole and his group welcome visitors to the scene of their operations and are ready and willing at all times to answer questions and import information relating to their operations.

Dr. Cole has offered to provide reducing exercises to any citizen of Dixon or vicinity who desires to enlist their services in conducting the excavations, providing they follow his instructions.

Labor Mobilization Plan Given Effect Throughout Nation

Number of War Workers To Be Doubled Under New Program

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—The labor mobilization program of the War Manpower Commission became effective today, establishing an emphatic policy for military deferment of irreplaceable craftsmen and setting up a system of priorities to make certain that urgent production needs get first call on available skilled workers.

"This is a great opportunity," said Administrator Paul V. McNutt, "for a democracy to demonstrate that it can discipline itself."

The manpower chief directed on May 21 that the selective service system instruct local draft boards, effective June 1, to consult with Federal Employment Service officers before calling to the army any individual "skilled in a critical war occupation."

Selective service previously had adopted a policy for deferment of men in critical occupations, but McNutt said some draft boards seemed "to regard it as a breach of patriotism to defer anybody for occupational reasons." Hence, the federal employment offices were brought into the picture to help the local boards determine those men needed most urgently at work benches.

Plants Classified

Of equal importance, the War Production Board is classifying war plants according to urgency and the federal employment service will "make preferential referrals of workers to employers engaged in war production in the order of their priority before making referrals to other employers."

WE'LL GO AS FAR AS NEEDED

FAILURE is a luxury we may indulge in time of peace, but not in war—especially that failure, most ignominious of all, which comes from lack of trying. In peacetime far too many of us are prone to say: "Thus far we can go, and no farther. That can't be done. Why should we attempt the impossible?"

But not in war. In war we strive to excel in all things, even in sacrifice. The men in our armed forces offer up the most—their jobs, their comforts, their liberties, their lives. At home we pay our taxes, lend our money, give our money, deprive ourselves of many a possession deemed necessary in time of peace. Thus bound together in a brotherhood of sacrifice, we exercise anew our privilege to pledge—as did the founding fathers in 1776—not only our lives and our fortunes but also our sacred honor.

To do consistently more than is expected of them, rather than less, is a point of honor with the railroads. Even before the war they were fighting off the manifold discouragements of the depression, striving to maintain their properties in readiness and schooling their organizations for an increased traffic that at times threatened never to reappear. Thus fortified, they have successfully weathered up to now their wartime tests, facing traffic levels and tendencies dismayingly unprecedented. They have even met with composure the recent ruling that further expansion of the railway plant would have to be limited by the greater priority of supplies for our fighting forces.

Faint heart might have considered that the final blow and the one great justification for doing a poor job or a small one. Yet the railroads say: "We're not going to be licked. We have discovered wells of capacity within our plant which we did not know existed. We have found new car space and new power in the planning of our government and our managers, in the loyalty and inventiveness of our family of workers, in the co-operation of our customers, in the consideration of our courts and commissions, in the public's will to win. We'll carry on to victory—and beyond."

And that's the kind of productiveness—under difficulties—that will win both the war and the peace.

POST CHAPEL AT FORT BLISS IS SETTING FOR WEDDING OF ARMY NURSE AND LIEUTENANT

The post chapel at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex., was the setting for a candlelight wedding ceremony on Friday evening, in which Lieut. Marilyn Joyce Atkinson, youngest daughter of Mrs. A. J. Holtenbeck of Rock Falls, became the bride of Lieut. Jo Morgan Teague, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Teague of Atlanta, Ga. The impressive double ring service was performed at 8 o'clock by Capt. Gordon Voight, chaplain.

Baskets of pink delphinium and Queen Anne's lace, interspersed with palms and ferns, decorated the chancel. Mrs. R. P. Kirk was at the organ, accompanying Pvt. Tryman Harris, who sang Chadman's "At Dawning". The traditional wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was the signal for the entrance of the bride party.

The bride walked with Col. F. S. Swift, regimental commander, who gave her in marriage. Her white satin dress was designed on princess lines, with leg-o-mutton sleeves, and a long skirt that flared into a train. Orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of tulle to her coiffure. A necklace of pearls was her only jewelry, and she carried calla lilies in an arm bouquet.

Mrs. J. M. Cahn, as matron of honor, was dressed in pastel green chiffon, with fitted bodice, puff sleeves, and a full skirt. Her matching headdress of tulle was caught with rosebuds. Her bouquet contained Briar Cliff roses.

The bride's mother was wearing black crepe, with sequins outlining the yoke of applied net, and the bridegroom's mother was dressed in rose lace. Both wore a corsage of gardenias.

Lieut. J. M. Cahn was best man. Lieut. Col. C. N. Tourant was head usher. Assisting him were Captains Weber, Digman, Ripley, and Elliott, and Lieutenants Topping, Post, Dunck, Debelak, Aronson, Beede, Hughes, and Stone. During the recessional the ushers formed the traditional arch of steel for the bride and groom.

A reception was held at the 304th Coast Artillery Regiment Officers' club. Later, the bride and groom left for Hot Springs, N. M. Mrs. Teague was wearing a corsage of gardenias with her powder blue tailored suit.

After Wednesday, the couple will be at home at 1140 Rio Grande avenue, El Paso.

Out of town guests included the bride's mother, the bridegroom's mother, his parents, Mrs. C. D. Ebersole, and his sister, Mrs. J. B. Torbes, of Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Teague was graduated recently from Michael Reese hospital training school in Chicago. She is now stationed with the Army Nursing Corps at William Beaumont General Hospital in El Paso. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Georgia School of Technology, where he became affiliated with Chi Chi social fraternity and Tau Beta Phi national engineering fraternity. He received a master's degree in ceramic engineering at the University of Ohio, and was formerly with the Owens-Illinois glass company in Toledo. He is now with the Coast Artillery Air-Aircraft regiment at Fort Bliss.

MISS MARGOT HOWARD AND CORP. ROBERT E. DAVIS WILL BE WED, JUNE 30

Prayerbooks, orange blossoms and Lohengrin are taking the news columns by storm this spring, with the list of betrothals and marriages growing longer every week. That Miss Margot Howard, only daughter of the Charles E. Howards of 904 Third street, and Corp. Robert E. Davis, son of Mrs. A. J. Pask of Chicago, are planning a June wedding was the romantic news awaiting 24 guests attending an informal announcement party given Saturday evening by the Howards for their daughter.

Following an evening of card games, the guests found the announcement, "Margot and Bob—June 30," written on pink paper candles in yellow rosebud holders that topped tiny cakes at the refreshment table. The couple will exchange their nuptial vows in an afternoon wedding, to be solemnized at 4 o'clock at St. Luke's Episcopal church, just three days following Corporal Davis' graduation from the officers' candidate school at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania.

Miss Howard was graduated from Dixon high school, and is employed as long distance operator in the traffic department of the Dixon Home Telephone company. Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of Chicago, and before his enlistment was field representative for Frances Shimer junior college at Mt. Carroll.

Miss Leone Kreim received a guest favor at the party, and favors in hearts were shared by the Misses Katherine Forbes, Lorraine Huck, and Eloise Petit.

Country Club Crowd Dances at May Mixer
Saturday evening's May Mixer dancing party at the Dixon Country club was such an unqualified success that E. E. Barrowman's committee is already considering plans for an encore. Some 40 couples turned out for the event, dancing from 9:30 until 1 to the music of Harry Blakely's Campus Favorites from Rockford.

The Max Enos of Evanston were back in Dixon for the holiday week end, and were among out of town guests at the dance. They attended with Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Redfern of Little Rock, Ark., who were entertaining half a dozen couples at the home of Mrs. Redfern's parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Hamilton, earlier in the evening. Mrs. Eno and her young son, Jeffrey, are spending this week with her parents, the O. W. Dodds, Mr. Eno having returned to Evanston.

Also among the dance-goers were Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mills of Chicago, until recently of Dixon, who were spending the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Ort; and Ensign Bradley Moll, on week end leave from Great Lakes, where he is stationed in the communications and decoding office of the intelligence department.

By way of special entertainment, the dancers were applauding the keyboard skill of Dick Rhodes, a newcomer to Dixon from Lansing, Mich., who had his own dance band, "Dusty Rhodes' orchestra," in Lansing for a number of years, before coming here with the Green River ordinance plant. Other new members of the club attending Saturday evening's party were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Buvens, Mr. and Mrs. William Slaughter, the Donald R. Altons, Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. John Rodge.

Next in the club's summer series of dancing parties will probably be held on or near July 4, according to present plans of the committee.

LEE CENTER GIRL BECOMES BRIDE OF CHICAGO ATTORNEY AT LEE CENTER CHURCH ALTAR

Bedients of Lee Center, became the bride of Atty. Donald Blodgett, assistant attorney for the Illinois state commission in Chicago. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. George Luxton of Belvidere, and the late William Blodgett of Morrison.

The vows were read at 2:30 o'clock by the Rev. G. A. Cox of Stillman Valley, former pastor of the Lee Center church. About 150 relatives and friends assembled in the small white chapel, during a nuptial prelude played by Mrs. C. A. Ullrich, organist.

Mrs. Raymond Degner sang a solo, "Because," and joined Mrs. Cecil Nattress in a duet, "I Love You Truly." The Bridal Chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was played as a processional, and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as the recessional.

A single orchid was pinned to the shoulder of the bride's redingote of sheer aqua alpaca. She wore a white hat, trimmed with veiling, and she chose all white accessories.

Miss Bernice Pliske of Chicago, as maid of honor, was dressed in powder blue mesh with white accents, and at her shoulder was a corsage of red roses and white sweet peas.

Robert Blodgett of Rockford was his brother's best man.

The bride's mother chose ashes of roses sheer crepe for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Luxton was attired in blue sheer crepe. Sheer should bouquets were gardenias.

White tapers were lighted in seven-branch candelabra at either side of the altar for Saturday's wedding. Pink peonies and white daisies were flanked by ferns at either side.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Emmert, in Nachusa. Seventy guests were received.

Four bouquets of spring flowers trimmed the bride's table. A three-tiered cake, decorated with blue forget-me-nots, was the centerpiece. Mrs. Emmert's sister, Mrs. Merle McCartney of Marengo, and a sister of the bridegroom from Chicago poured.

When the bridal pair left later on a northern wedding trip, the new Mrs. Blodgett was wearing a brown and beige ensemble. They will be at home later in the month at the Mount Royal apartments, 550 Arlington street, Chicago.

The bride was graduated from the Lee Center community high school, and the Wilfred Academy of Beauty Culture in Chicago. She has been employed at the Eccelle Beauty shop in Chicago.

When you get a salary loan, you merely give us your personal note. We take no wage assignment of any kind. We make your loan simply on your earning ability and your willingness to repay.

Household makes many loans on other plans; the chances are you can get a loan here if you have a job. Even when making furniture and automobile loans, we consider character and regular income far more important than the actual value of the borrower's security.

All you do to apply for your loan is to tell us how much you need and how you wish to repay. It is never necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. Neither do we question friends or relatives about your credit.

You may choose the most convenient payment plan from table below.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $150, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $150. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

Double Holiday Is Disastrous to Hope of Some Contenders

Yankees and Dodgers Increase Leads in Respective Leagues

AUSTIN BEALMEAR, Associated Press Sports Writer

Major league baseball enjoyed a rest today after the busiest week-end of the season, which brought disaster in double doses to many of the pennant contenders and success in the same quantities to those who could withstand the pressure of four games in two days.

A total of 392,280 fans swarmed to the ball parks, 197,820 of them yesterday. And that didn't include the hundreds of service men who were admitted free.

Here are some of the more important happenings witnessed:

The New York Yankees stretched their American League lead to eight games, although their eight-game winning streak was snapped by the Philadelphia Athletics in yesterday's second game.

The Brooklyn Dodgers boosted their lead in the National League to six games by stopping the Boston Braves twice yesterday after dividing a pair with the New York Giants the day before.

The Cleveland Indians skidded into fourth place in the American League while the Detroit Tigers took over second place and the Boston Red Sox moved up a notch to third.

The St. Louis Cardinals replaced the Boston Braves in second place in the National League by winning two out of three over the week end while the Braves managed only an even split in four games.

Ott-Ties Hornsby's Mark

Mel Ott, playing his 17th year in the majors—all with the Giants—tied Rogers Hornsby's National League record of 1,552 runs batted in by driving two runs across in yesterday's twin triumph over the Philadelphia Phils.

As for the games themselves, two of yesterday's scheduled double-headers were cut in half by the weather but five of the six played resulted in double victories.

The lone exception was at Philadelphia, where the Yankees came from behind with a seven-run sixth-inning rally to whip the Athletics, 11-7, then bumped into Luman Harris, who checked them on four hits, for a 4-2 decision in the afterpiece.

Elden Auker and Johnny Niggeling shared the pitching honors as the St. Louis Browns stopped the Cleveland Indians, 5-4 and 8-3, with Don Gutteridge collecting six hits in eight tries and Chet Laabs, Vern Stephens and George McQuinn chipping in home runs.

Newcom Crushed

The Boston Red Sox crushed Buck Newcom and the Washington Senators, 11-1, in the first game and took the second, 4-3, on pinch-hitter Lou Finney's two-run single.

Aging Ted Lyons pitched and batted the Chicago White Sox to a 9-4 ten-inning triumph over the Detroit Tigers, getting three hits in five appearances and touching off a five-inning rally in the tenth. The second game was halted in the third inning with no score.

Curt Davis pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 10-2 triumph over the Braves as Dixie Walker hit a grand-slam homer and Whitlow Wyatt tossed a six-hitter in the nightcap to make it unanimous, 3-1.

Bill Lohman pitched the Giants to a 3-2 decision over the Phils in the first game, holding them to four hits, and Bob Carpenter yielded only seven blows in the second game, won by the Giants, 7-1, with Willard Marshall showing the way on a three-run homer.

The floundering Pittsburgh Pirates were no trouble for the Cincinnati Reds, who won the opening game, 8-2, on the five-hit pitching of Bucky Walters and scored a 3-0 shut out in the nightcap as Ray Starr scattered six safeties. The double defeat ran Pittsburgh's losing streak to nine.

Howard Pollet pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs, although he was tagged for ten hits. A scheduled second game got no further than the last half of the first inning.

Snead Wins P. G. A. Title in Dazzling Finish Yesterday

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. Wide World Sports Columnist
New York, June 1.—Study in contrasts—or is it?...England's wartime sport has become a week-end affair with players and fans engaged in war work through the week...Saturday two cup final soccer games drew 120,000 fans... In American baseball is going on a business-as-usual basis and not getting rich from week-day customers... Saturday and Sunday major league doubleheaders drew 392,000... Looks as if the Athletics might as well save their efforts for occasions when the fans are willing and able to turn out... As further proof, five big horse tracks drew 170,000 fans Saturday.

Monday Matinee

When Sid Luckman, the Chicago Bears quarterback, gets around to telling Sid, Jr., about his record, a good many lineups are likely will burn. In three seasons, Sid has carried the ball 66 times for a net minus of two yards... Which brings up the idea that maybe the Navy Air Corps is signing up so many football players for other reasons than physical training—any coach will tell you the best way to stop an air attack is by rushing the passer.

Was Dazzling Finish

Snead's finish would have dazed any opponent. The 35th hole, where the match ended, was typical. Sam overdrove the 213-yarder by some 60 feet and then chipped into the hole for a birdie two.

Turnesa, 29-year-old member of the numerous Turnesa golfing clan, also earned all of the superlatives lavished on him. He made the tournament. Completely unheralded, the stocky, dark little fellow dropped over from his army camp to play the finest golf of his life and completely upset the professionals' "routine." Odds of 50 to 1 could have been had against him at the start and there were no takers.

Unfortunately for Turnesa, army regulations forbid his pocketing the $750 prize he won here, and besides, he promised to donate anything he might win to the Army Emergency Relief Fund.

Wolverines Fall Short of Winning Undisputed Title

Chicago, June 1.—(AP)—Michigan fell short of wrapping up its second Big Ten baseball championship and settled in a tie for it with Iowa.

Credit for changing Michigan's destiny largely belongs to Carl Patterson and Warren Scholler of Ohio State. On Friday, Patterson doubled in the 11th inning and came home on Scholler's single to give the Buckeyes a 3-2 triumph, knocking the Wolverines out of a chance to repeat for the pennant.

Michigan bounced back to beat Ohio State, 7-1, Saturday by hammering two pitchers for 12 hits and thus salvaged a co-championship. The Hawkeyes and Wolverines closed the books with 10 wins and two losses.

Wisconsin was dropped from the running when Minnesota captured a double-headed, 3-1 and 6-1, Saturday. The Badgers can take third place this weekend at Madison if they sweep the season's final two-game series from Ohio State. Both schools have six wins in 10 games.

2,500 University of Illinois Grads Given Diplomas

Urbana, Ill., June 1.—(AP)—Some 2,500 students at the University of Illinois received baccalaureate and advanced degrees today under a war-time setting in the institution's 71st commencement exercises.

Like most of the smaller colleges in Illinois which already have held graduation ceremonies, the university, adjusting its schedule to the war emergency, advanced its commencement two weeks from the usual June date.

The keynote of an address by the University's president, Arthur Cutts Willard was the value of education and scientific advancement to the nation in winning the war and in establishing post-war peace.

Rabbi Louis L. Mann of Chicago Sinai congregation told the graduates yesterday in the baccalaureate services that "visions of a better world through scientific progress have been betrayed and replaced by bitter disillusionment."

President Willard asserted that "the profession of arms will largely determine our place in the world as free men or vassals, but the requirements of the profession of arms have been tremendously expanded, and the fighting forces are today fully as dependent on the scientific professions and the forces of production as on the fighting men who comprise our armies and our navies."

"This university, along with all other colleges and universities of this country, has had an important share in moulding and determining our American way of life. These same institutions expect to have x x x an even more important share in craft production do not impair the British air offensive now or in the future. I believe a mutually satisfactory balance has been struck."

"Reprisal Raid"

Berlin (From German Broadcasts) June 1—(AP)—German planes struck "in reprisal for the terror attack by the British air forces on the center of the city of Cologne" at Canterbury last night, the German high command said today.

"Thousands of high explosive fire bombs" were dropped on the ancient city in southeast England and pilots observed large fires after the low level attacks, the communique said.

(The British said three waves totaling 25 planes raided Canterbury, causing considerable damage but few casualties.)

The communique yesterday said "great damage" had been done at Cologne. Today, the air raid precaution services were raised.

"The air raid precaution services without thought of personal losses considerably limited the spreading of fires by noteworthy vigilance and prompt action," the communique said.

Single British bombers carried out "nuisance" raids on western Germany last night, DNB reported.

Dispatches from Cologne said four of the finest old churches in that historic Rhineland city were severely damaged in the raid, including Saint Martin, one of the most notable Romanesque churches in Germany dating back to the 12th century, the Church of the Apostles, Santa Maria in Capitol and the Antonine church.

The dispatches said the "center of the city which comprises the most ancient and picturesque district, suffered particularly heavily."

Damaged buildings, apart from the churches, included the police headquarters, and the Nazi welfare headquarters.

Two Injured in Race Disorders in Illinois

Charleston, Mo., June 1—(AP)—State highway patrolmen arrived in time to prevent possible serious race trouble Sunday afternoon at Wyatt, a small community seven miles east of here, after a brief battle between Negroes and whites.

A flareup resulted in the injury of two persons, the jailing of a third and confiscation of three automatic rifles.

Sgt. Melvin Dace said Arthur Sparks, white filling station operator was slashed across the back with a knife in an argument resulting when two Negroes drove their car into a gasoline pump.

Several carloads of state troopers rushed to the scene and dispersed a crowd which had gathered, arrested a Negro identified as James Branson and took the rifles from Negro residents. No charges had been placed against Branson.

One Negro was beaten over the head with an oil can wielded by a bystander at the filling station.

GUESTS AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, June 1—(AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were luncheon guests of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House today.

The White House described it as a small "family luncheon." The Windsors, who arrived here this morning, were accompanied by the executive mansion by Lady Halifax, wife of the British ambassador.

Later in the afternoon while the duke, who is governor of the Bahamas, was scheduled to hold conferences with British officials here, the duchess was to have tea with Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, wife of the former ambassador to Belgium and Ecuador.

were destroyed and damaged and although our fighter efforts was directed principally against the enemy's land forces, several combats developed over the battle area," the RAF communique said.

Headquarters declared that the axis withdrawal effort had already "partially succeeded," but said that a large portion of the enemy's tanks and motor transport still was trapped east of the minefields guarding the British defense line stretching south from Ain el Gazala to Bir Hacheim, 50 miles inland.

These forces, part of a column which swept around Bir Hacheim last week and cut in behind the British line, are being attacked relentlessly by British armored units and planes, the communique said.

The portion of the axis forces that already have withdrawn to the west succeeded in working their way through gaps in the minefields and have concentrated a considerable force of anti-tank artillery in an attempt to prevent British mechanized units from closing the gaps, the bulletin added.

LULL IN RUSSIA

Moscow, June 1—(AP)—The three-week battles in the Crimea and the Ukraine which opened the spring campaign on the eastern front have ended in a calm which finds new lines stabilized and both sides preparing for new and perhaps more violent outbreaks.

As the result of the early May offensives the Germans now are holding lines advanced to the Kerch Strait which separates them from the Caucasus, and the Russians are occupying deep wedges about Kharkov in the Ukraine.

The lull was signalized today by a soviet communique which said there was nothing at all to report from the front.

Such action as there was to report over the week-end occurred on the Kalinin sector northwest of Moscow, not in the Kharkov zone, where the Red army was reported taking the initiative in local operations, perhaps with the idea of beating the Germans to the punch for the second time this year.

Tank Concentration

The Germans were reported, however, massing a vast concentration of tanks behind the southern front, and Russian reconnaissance pilots said that in one sector they saw an armored column, which stretched through streets of a city, on through the suburbs, and as far as the horizon.

The great battle of Kharkov, which now has simmered down into relative quiet, was the first instance and the Russians claimed it as a triumph.

Without denting their own reserve power, despite acknowledged losses of 75,000 men, they declared they had forestalled a Nazi push on Rosov, drained German reserves and diverted 36 Nazi divisions which had been massed opposite that gateway city to the Caucasus. A Russian communique has put Nazi losses on the Kharkov front at 90,000 or more men captured and killed, 540 tanks and 200 planes destroyed.

On the Kalinin front, a communique said yesterday, the Germans tried to strengthen their positions by moving in large reserves but, striking first, the Red army seized "important enemy lines" and left about 1,100 Germans dead or wounded in repulsing counterattacks lasting three days.

they are kept from the oil and other fresh supplies which Hitler needs so badly is another nail in the fuhrer's coffin. So long as the Germans aren't actually advancing they are taking a beating, for they are pitted against speeding time.

However, we shouldn't assume that the present slackening off in the battle means it's dying out. On the contrary, the mightiest armies which are facing each other in this crucial trial by sword are girding themselves for further blows. Offensive and counter-offensive will intensify as the summer progresses, and the fertile fields of this sector will run with the blood of a vast host of youth before the issue is decided.

This doesn't necessarily mean that Hitler will devote all his energy to trying to break through the Rostov gateway. On the contrary it's quite possible that, since he finds the going tough opposite Rostov, he may attempt an assault by air and sea against Syria in an effort to break into the oil fields of the Middle East that way.

This possibility finds support in the new offensive which has been attempted by Nazi Marshal Rommel across the blazing summer sands of the Libyan desert. Such an action undoubtedly would accompany any German drive against Syria.

It's likely that upon Rommel's progress will depend Hitler's decision as to his further procedure in trying to crash the Middle East. Should things seem favorable to the axis in the desert warfare, it might encourage an invasion of Syria, thus not only threatening the oil fields of Iraq and Iran but putting Egypt and the Suez canal in a part of pinchers.

Marshal Rommel, however, appears from British accounts to have taken a bad battering thus far in the five-day-old engagement. Here again we see a further example of the importance of the growing allied air power, for a superiority of about five to three over the axis in Libya has enabled the British to knock out 40 enemy tanks and other armored vehicles, and destroy vital supplies of gasoline and water.

Thus Rommel's master may well be twiddling his thumbs in exasperation over this incomplete plan for new adventures. However, the battle still rages fiercely and while Rommel appears to be in a tight spot he is one of the great soldiers of our time. The British are cautious in their optimism as regards the outcome, and we should be, too.

appearance of a tiny axis submarine which, unlike previously observed enemy raiders, carried no deck guns, but sank a medium-sized Norwegian merchantman with three torpedoes.

Elsewhere on this side of the Atlantic the axis raiders methodically continued activities, accounting for four officially reported sinkings between May 25-31 off the U. S. east coast to bring that area's war total to 111 announced sinkings.

Three more victims sent to the bottom off Canada last week brought the total there to 33, while South America waters, where 12 ships have been sunk, went unmoored for the week, so far as official reports showed.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The power of the greatest Navy in the world, our own two-ocean fleet, rests in large measure on its backbone—the Battleships of the Line. They displace approximately 35,000 tons and cost up to $70,000,000. We have something like a score of these huge ships in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Eight huge battleships are under construction and more are contemplated. To finance these modern goliaths of the sea it is necessary for every American everywhere to buy more and more War Bonds. We can do it if everybody does his share. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day to help your country go over its Bond Quota. U. S. Treasury Department

Navy's Fourth List of Casualties Given Out for Publication

Raises Total of Dead, Wounded and Missing to More Than 8,500

Washington, June 1—(AP)—The navy department announced its fourth casualty list of the war today, raising the total of dead, wounded and missing to more than 8,500 officers and men.

The new list, covering the period April 16 to May 10, inclusive, added the names of 64 dead, 54 wounded and 2,193 missing. In the first three casualty lists the navy had reported 2,991 dead, 2,495 missing and 907 wounded. The latest accounting included the names of some missing or dead who previously had been reported wounded.

The casualties include personnel of the navy, marine corps and coast guard and publication was limited, generally, to the home towns of the men listed except for those nationally known.

Many Presumed Prisoners
In this category was Captain Kenneth M. Hoeffel of Washington, D. C., senior naval officer in the Philippines at the time of the fall of Corregidor. The navy previously had presumed him to be a prisoner of the Japanese but in the absence of confirmation through official international channels he is currently regarded as missing.

"The large percentage of names under the 'missing' classification," the navy said, "is due to the fact that many of them were serving in the Manila Bay area when it capitulated to the enemy and likely are prisoners of war."

"The bureau of naval personnel in notifying next of kin has pointed out that it will likely be several months before definite information can be obtained on such cases; also that next of kin will be notified promptly when definite word is received."

"Some of those under the 'missing' classification may have been rescued at sea and landed at isolated spots from which they have had no opportunity to communicate with United States naval authorities."

POLO BOY MISSING
Mr. and Mrs. William Beightol of Polo have received notice from the war department that their son, Carl M. Beightol, a graduate of the Polo Community high school, class of 1934, has been missing since May 7, the date of the fall of Corregidor.

Beightol was a member of the 31st Infantry and was on Bataan under General MacArthur and, later, under General Wainwright. No definite word has been received whether he is a prisoner of war, or was killed in action or is wounded and in a hospital.

The last letter Mr. and Mrs. Beightol received from their son was written from the Philippines late in November, prior to the Japanese attack.

The following is the letter received by Mr. Beightol from the war department:

"According to war department records, you have been designated as the emergency addressee of Private Carl M. Beightol, 19,019-438, who according to the latest information available, was serving in the Philippine Islands at the time of the final surrender."

"I deeply regret that it is impossible for me to give you more information than is contained in this letter. In the last days before the surrender of Bataan there were casualties which were not reported to the war department. Conceivably the same is true of the surrender of Corregidor and possibly of other islands

Chicago, Voters to Cure Transportation Headaches at Polls

Chicago, June 1—(AP)—An ordinance designed to cure Chicago's transportation headache was submitted to the voters in a referendum today.

It had no organized opposition, and Mayor Edward J. Kelly said that it had been approved Chicago would have "the best local transportation system in the world."

The measure provides for immediate unification of the surface and elevated systems and eventual absorption of the Chicago motor bus properties. A new company called the Chicago Transit Company would be created and charged with spending $192,000,000 during the first eight years of operation for improvements in the service.

This company also would rent the city's new system of downtown subways, not yet in operation but nearing completion.

City engineers and representatives of the various transportation media have been working on the unification plan for several years. Mayor Kelly said one of the best provisions of the ordinance was that returning home rule of local transportation matters.

Election officials estimate the referendum will cost $300,000, since all the city's 3,787 precincts will have to be opened. This would not have been necessary if the voters were participating only in today's judicial election, which could have been conducted by areas. However, the officials said, additional expenses of the referendum will be paid from the traction fund.

June Bonds Drive in State Will Be Aimed at All Wage Earners

Chicago, June 1—(AP)—The June campaign to sell $65,409,400 in war bonds to Illinoisans will be aimed mainly at bringing workers into the payroll savings plan.

Norman B. Collins, state administrator of the Illinois war savings staff, said yesterday that about 70 per cent of Illinois employees are enrolled in the payroll allotment plan and are investing an average of 5 per cent of their weekly pay in war bonds, but that the drive's objective was to raise this regular purchase to 10 per cent or more.

The May quota was $49,518,300.

Commander of Negro Unit at Great Lakes Arrives in Chicago

Great Lakes, Ill., June 1—(AP)—Lieutenant Commander Daniel W. Armstrong, son of the late Brig. Gen. S. C. Armstrong, leader of Negro troops in the Civil war, has arrived to assume command of the newly established Negro unit at the training center here.

The navy department said the first recruits would begin arriving at the station soon.

Armstrong, born at Summerville, S. C., March 12, 1893, was attached to the Bureau of Ordnance in Washington and was instrumental in promoting the award of the naval "E" and bureau of ordnance flags to manufacturing firms which established production records.

During the last war he served on the battleships Arkansas and Maine and as commander of the destroyer U. S. S. Craven.

Can Obtain Grates For Oil Furnaces

Washington, June 1—(AP)—Home-owners converting their heating plants from oil to coal may obtain furnace grates without priority ratings, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

A new OPA order supercedes previous regulations which required a priority rating of 10 or better for the purchase of grates valued at more than $5.

Light Vote Likely in Judicial Polls Throughout State

Chicago, June 1—(AP)—One of the oddities of Illinois state government is that the nine-year terms of five of the seven Supreme Court justices expire simultaneously.

Today is the day they come up for re-election, the day the voters name five justices to serve, barring death or resignation, until 1951 on the state's highest bench.

Considering the possibilities of political upsets, seldom has interest been so low in the election of chief importance to the Illinois judiciary. With public attention concentrated on the war and with a minimum of other issues on the ballots, all indications were that the vote would be light, limited in most cases to the organization turnout.

As it is, re-election of two justices—Francis S. Wilson (D-Chicago) and Walter T. Gunn (R-Danville)—was assured, since they had no opposition.

The Democrats have held a majority on the high court since 1933, when Circuit judges also were elected and a big crowd turned out to help repeal prohibition in the referendum held early in the Roosevelt era.

Today's Contests
Before 1933 the Republicans held a five to two margin on the court. After 1933 it was Democratic five to two. Now the Democrats hold four of the seven places.

The districts being contested today:
First—Justice Paul Farthing, (D-Belleview) the only blind man to serve as chief justice of a state Supreme court, is opposed by State Senator Charles H. Thompson (R-Harrisburg).

Second—Justice June C. Smith, (R-Centralia) who in filling a vacancy last year was the only Republican ever elected from the Alton-Vandalia district, is opposed by Circuit Judge Dick H. Mudge (D-Edwardsville).

Sixth—Justice Elwyn R. Shaw, (D-Freeport) who won his seat from Republican territory in the 1933 landslide, is opposed by Circuit Judge William J. Fulton (R-Sycamore).

Last year's production rate of airplanes by America alone was more than five times the total war losses announced by England.
